AnGes Receives
“2013 Venture Aid Program to Promote Practical Application of Innovation”
Grant Money from NEDO for HGF Plasmid Lymphedema Project

AnGes MG, Inc. (“AnGes”) announced that it received the grant money from the New Energy and Industrial Technology Development Organization (NEDO) for the “2013 Venture Aid Program to Promote Practical Application of Innovation.” As announced by AnGes on May 15, 2014, the HGF Plasmid lymphedema project was selected for NEDO’s program.

Project name: Clinical Development of Lymphedema Treatment Drug using HGF Plasmid

Grant amount: 69,056,663 Yen (equivalent to two-thirds of actual project costs incurred during the program period)

Program period: May 29, 2014 to February 28, 2015

AnGes will post the grant money as non-operating income in the first quarter of the fiscal year ending December 31, 2015. The impact of this event has already been included in the forecast for 2015.
